About

At Blanco, we firmly believe in the symbiosis between mankind and machine. Technology brings efficiency and lowers costs, while people will always bring trust and empathy to the table. That's why we're developing fintech solutions that save time and money, but that incorporate the human factor as well: instead of being imposed on people, our technology serves people.

Technology isn't a threat. To the contrary: it's the solution for long-established Financial Institutions to become less complex, more efficient and more cost effective as a result. We're here to help FI's to reclaim the driver's seat of their future-bound vehicle. Knowing Your Customer becomes more and import in current times driven by the need for data privacy and new regulations focusing on reduction Anti Money Laundry across several industries.

Our Platform automates from client on-boarding to securities administration. We are your invisible force in fintech.
