REASON FOR TODAY'S CALL:

We just tried to use the garburator for the first time after our dinner this evening and found the water wasn't draining. We used a plunger to let the water flow down. After a several push and pull, we discovered a lot of debris, including some rotten chopsticks as you can see in the attached photo and video, water started to drain. However we found water rushing down the pipe in the sink cabinet and to the kitchen floor.

DESCRIPTION OF WORK PERFORMED:

The ABS drainage became detached from the tailpiece of the basket strainer in the left side of the sink. I reattached the drainage and used metal strapping to ensure it doesn't drop down again in the future. The garburator grinding chamber had deteriorated to the point that bits of metal were breaking off. I replaced the garburator with new and tested by filling and draining the sink multiple times while running the garburator.
