REASON FOR TODAY'S CALL:

"I think it's the garburator or sink that's completely clogged. Tried drano to no avail. The water won't go down the drain at all at this point." buz#3601

DESCRIPTION OF WORK PERFORMED:

-used the PowerSpin drain snake to clear the kitchen sink blockage. -i noticed the water pressure in the kitchen faucet was quite low. the low pressure could potentially contribute to future drain blockages as it is hard to get sufficient water from the faucet to wash away food debris created by the garburator. i noticed that the shut off valves under the kitchen sink are not working. this most likely is caused by the washers within the valves wearing out and falling apart. this could also be the cause for the low water pressure as pieces of the rubber washer are most probably caught in various areas within the faucet itself.

TECHNICIAN RECOMMENDATIONS:

-i recommend repairing the hot and cold shut off valves under the kitchen sink as they may be needed in the future. -i also recommend finding out where the main water shut off valves are located within the apartment. -the kitchen faucet should also be replaced.
