REASON FOR TODAY'S CALL:
Geberit wall hung toilet running.

DESCRIPTION OF WORK PERFORMED:

The tenant managed to remove the cover plate and free up the flush buttons which were stuck in the flush position. This stopped the toilet from running over the weekend. I removed the remaining portion of the cover and inspected the integrals of the tank, all seems to be in good working order. There is a plastic clip that aligns the push buttons that had come loose which in turn caused the push buttons to get stuck in the flush position. I re-attached this clip and re-installed the cover plate. I then noticed the push buttons were set slightly too far out, I re-set these buttons and re-installed the cover plate. Tested by flushing multiple times and toilet is in good working condition.
