REASON FOR TODAY'S CALL:

The bathroom sink monster is baacckkk! He was fired from his job managing the toothpaste section at shoppers drug mart and let's just say he's not a happy camper. I have standing water in my bathroom sink right now - along with some icky bits of crap that the sink monster keeps spitting at me. Like I said -he's not a happy camper. I have tried to kill him with a plunger, baking soda and vinegar to no avail. He says he's invincible and resistance is futile. That's why I need your help... I also think he's gotten to his friend kitchen sink monster. He's normally pretty docile and likes to watch Netflix with me and the bunny. But he's apparently not very good at resisting peer pressure. There's also sock monster, but he's in a league all to himself :) Hopefully you will be able to remove sink monster and send him back to the depths of hell where he belongs. Maybe I shouldn't have said that because he says he has eyes everywhere.... Looking forward to your help!! Rachel & Daisy the sugar cartel running bunny :)

DESCRIPTION OF WORK PERFORMED:

-I used the PowerSpin drain snake to clear hair from the lavatory sink drain and tested by filling and draining the sink multiple times. -The garburator was jammed, causing it to drain slowly. I unjammed the garburator and tested by filling and draining the sink multiple times.
