REASON FOR TODAY'S CALL:

There are 2 sides to the sink and only the side with the garburator is backing up and the garburator is not working. The other side is still working but I noticed the water went down a little bit slower than usual. If you can unjam the garburator without replacing it, that would be great. If it is necessary to replace it, please let me know. I have attached couple photos of the garburator. It got replaced few years ago and I don't think it is the same model as the original one.

DESCRIPTION OF WORK PERFORMED:

I was able to unjam the garburator and tested by filling and draining the sink multiple times while running the garburator.
