REASON FOR TODAY'S CALL:

Hot water tap has nearly no pressure and, even after repeated fixes from another plumber, the problem continues to come back shortly after every service call. I'd love a permanent fix to this problem.

DESCRIPTION OF WORK PERFORMED:

-The hot shut off valve was failing. I repaired this valve by replacing the washer, stem, packing, packing nut, and handle. I then flushed debris out of the hot side of the faucet. There were bits of the shut off valve within this line but most of the debris was smaller, grittier, almost like sand. This sand like debris wouldn't have been coming from within the valve. It is more likely that the debris is coming from the hot water main supplied by the building. -I tested by filling and draining the sink multiple times and the pressure seems equal between hot and cold.
