REASON FOR TODAY'S CALL:

In the bathtub (shower is separate), there is no hot water and barely any cold water pressure that comes out the tap. It's a single handle and I've taken off the knob and tried to adjust the little screws for hot and cold. I've tried turning both ways quite a bit and it doesn't do anything other than decrease the water pressure more. The tub hasn't been used much at all, so i can't even remember running the bath in 6+ years. I wonder based on the stuff I've read online if the pipes are now clogged from lack of use. In the bathroom where the tub is, the separate shower works fine, so does the toilet and sink. The kitchen sink has never had a problem either.

DESCRIPTION OF WORK PERFORMED:

I replaced the cartridge within the shower valve and tested. Pressure is back to normal.
